

Email Basics

TRAINING CAMP

- ☐ Do you have what it takes to make a STRONG, positive impression with your emails?
- ☐ Are your emails taken seriously?
- ☐ Do you know how to professionally and academically address your teacher/principal/boss in an email?

Let's do what it takes to make sure your voice is heard in your emails.

Email Basics

TRAINING CAMP

Do:

- ☐ Use appropriate and formal language
- ☐ Write in a professional manner that is appropriate for a business-like environment
- ☐ Give your email a specific subject line
- ☐ Begin your email with an appropriate salutation (hello, hi, dear...)
- ☐ Include proper grammar, punctuation, and writing conventions
- ☐ Mention the hour you have the class

Email Basics

TRAINING CAMP

Do NOT:

- ☐ Use slang, profanity, or informal language
- ☐ Use text-speak/spelling and informal discourse
- ☐ Send a "No Subject" email
- ☐ Address your teacher as a friend (Hey, yo, Wazzzup...)
- ☐ Include grammatical errors
- ☐ Forget to include proper punctuation
- ☐ Forget to use complete sentences

LC9: Six Word Memoir Question

Dear Miss Wheeler,

I hope this email finds you happy and healthy.

I'm wondering if the Six Word Memoir can have a compound word connected by hyphens. If so, does this count as a singular word?

Thank you for your time. Can't wait to hear tomorrow's joke!

Sincerely,
Sally Smarty

Complaints

EMAIL TRAINING CAMP

WORK IT OUT: How to write an email when you have a complaint

1. After the greeting and nicety, state the brief history of the problem.
2. Explain how you tried to solve the problem.
3. Show why it's critical for the problem to be solved.
4. Offer suggestions

MOST IMPORTANTLY: Be polite.
Know your purpose and respect your audience.

ELA 11: Group Work

Dear Miss Wheeler

Last week, we were assigned groups for the creative writing assignment. I reached out to my partner and have not heard back. I tried emailing them on 9/15, 9/17, and again today. My work is really important to me, and I know this grade counts in our final average. I was wondering if I could either change partners or if you could reach out to my partner on my behalf. I'd like to get started on this assignment as soon as possible.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Jada Juniors.

Complaints

EMAIL TRAINING CAMP

TRAINING CAMP PRACTICE: Write a practice complaint email about the situation below.

SITUATION: You missed an assignment. You emailed your teacher on October 2nd asking if you could hand the assignment in late and still receive full credit. She said yes. When you checked your grade, you did not receive full credit. On the next slide, write your teacher an email with all of the elements of a respectful complaint, including offering a suggestion to the problem.

Subject: Missing assignment lc9

Dear Miss Wheeler

I emailed you about a missing assignment earlier, and you said you would take it for full credit. I turned it in yesterday and I still haven't received full credit. I really need this done soon because I told my mom I would get full credit and then didn't get it. Could you please review my assignment and update the grade.

Thank you for your time

Sincerely

Najeeb Mohamed

Style

EMAIL TRAINING CAMP

Build a style that is appropriate for your PURPOSE and AUDIENCE.

Remember, your audience is your teacher, and your purpose is to have your voice heard!

1. Maintain a positive, respectful tone. Avoid negative words (can't, don't, hate, awful, etc.) whenever possible.
2. Avoid text talk (TTYL, LOL, U, i, R).
3. Use smiles, winks, and graphic symbols only when appropriate :)
4. Keep your tone friendly. Contractions help keep your tone conversational (contractions are combined words: it's, I'll, Let's, etc.).
5. Be polite by adding please and thank you when appropriate.
6. Always sign off politely: Thank You, Thanks in advance, Sincerely, Respectfully

Other Tips:

- ❑ Do not reply-all!!! Never. Ever.
- ❑ Remember, grades are not negotiable. Your job is to learn how to do better in the future--not to try to win points back.
- ❑ Avoid asking to retake a quiz/test, instead ask for help understanding.
- ❑ Avoid asking for extra credit. Again, the focus should be on learning.
- ❑ Worth repeating: Frame your email positively. You might feel like it is the teacher's fault, but you need to be diplomatic and take ownership of your issues.
- ❑ Make sure you use paragraphs
- ❑ Make sure you did not indent, that paragraphs are single-spaced, and there is a double space between paragraphs (business letter format)
- ❑ Make sure your purpose in writing is clear. What is your goal in writing this email? Clarification? Apology? Help?
- ❑ Believe in yourself! Your voice is important.
